SEC had critical cyber weaknesses

The seal of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on the wall at SEC headquarters in Washington

REUTERS

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security detected five "critical" cyber security weaknesses on the Securities and Exchange Commission's computers as of January 23, 2017, according to a confidential weekly report reviewed by Reuters.

The report's findings raise fresh questions about a 2016 cyber breach into the SEC's corporate filing system known as "EDGAR." SEC Chairman Jay Clayton disclosed late Wednesday night that the agency learned in August 2017 that hackers may have exploited the 2016 incident for illegal insider-trading.

The January DHS report, which shows its weekly findings after scanning computers for cyber weaknesses across most of the federal civilian government agencies, revealed that the SEC at the time had the fourth most "critical" vulnerabilities.

It was not clear if the vulnerabilities detected by DHS are directly related to the cyber breach disclosed by the SEC in 2016. But it shows that even after the SEC says it patched "promptly" the software vulnerability after the 2016 hack, critical vulnerabilities still plagued the regulator's systems.

An SEC spokesman did not have any immediate comment on the report's findings.

It is unclear if any of those critical vulnerabilities still pose a threat.

The top U.S. markets regulator said on Wednesday that hackers accessed its corporate disclosure database and may have illegally profited by trading on the insider information stolen.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) said the hack occurred in 2016 but that it had only discovered last month that the cyber criminals may have used the information to make illicit trades.

The hackers exploited a software glitch in the test filing component of the system to gain access to non-public information, the agency

Republicans 'close' on health-care's last chance: Pence

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - U.S. Vice President Mike Pence on Thursday urged fellow Republicans to get behind the party's "last best chance" to repeal and replace Obamacare as congressional leaders scrambled to secure enough support ahead of a planned vote next week. Pence, in an interview on Fox News, said Republicans were close to dismantling the 2010 healthcare law passed by former Democratic President Barack Obama. Republicans need 50 votes to pass their latest healthcare overhaul plan before a Sept. 30 deadline in the Senate, where they hold a 52-48 majority. Majority Leader Mitch McConnell intends to bring it to the Senate floor for a vote next week. With no Democratic support for the bill, Republicans remain a handful of votes short. Senator Rand Paul opposes it and at least five others are undecided: Susan Collins, Lisa Murkowski, Dan Sullivan, John McCain and

Jerry Moran. A number of governors - both Republicans and Democrats - oppose the plan, saying it would curb needed funds, impose an unknown system of coverage and strip coverage from vulnerable patients. Health insurers, hospitals, health-care industry groups and consumer advocates have also come out against it, instead urging a bipartisan fix to the current law. Several Republicans defended the measure on Thursday, saying they must make good on their years-long campaign promise to undo it

Rising costs for home-builders likely to push prices up

By Nancy Sarnoff

An untimely confluence of labor shortages, rising material costs and the possibility of tougher development guidelines in the wake of Hurricane Harvey is expected to result in escalating prices for new homes across Houston, a part of the country frequently lauded for its affordably priced housing.

Likewise, existing homes in areas that avoided flooding could see their values rise as buyers become more selective about where they purchase homes.

It's too early to estimate how high prices on new construction could go, but buyer incentives that were readily available before the storm are already disappearing amid a housing shortage, said David Jarvis, senior vice president of the Houston

Thousands of apartments have flooded too, and the number of homes for sale on the Multiple Listing Service fell almost 7 percent from Aug. 7 to Sept. 7, according to the Houston Association of Realtors.

Rising construction costs are on the minds of members of the Greater Houston Builders Association, said Casey Morgan, the group's executive vice president and CEO, though she hasn't heard concerns about housing affordability declining. "There has been some discussion about price increases just because of the labor shortages and the need for work,"

Harvey Debris Cleanup Fuels City Leaders' Debate

Mayor Sylvester Turner (center) presides the Houston City Council meeting held on September 20th, during which some members voiced frustration and concerns over the clean-up process after hurricane Harvey.

HOUSTON (CN) — With Houston facing the monumental task of disposing debris from flood-ravaged homes, tempers flared at Wednesday's City Council meeting when a council member asked city staff to give him a schedule for when trash will be picked up in his district.

The materials tossed from flooded homes—flooring, furniture, cabinets and drywall—stand 10 feet tall on the curbs in front of every house in some subdivisions, post-apocalyptic swaths amid neighborhoods that suffered no flood damage.

Houston Mayor Sylvester Turner said Wednesday there are 8 million cubic yards of debris on the city's streets — by some estimates enough to fill the Houston Texans' football stadium two times — and the city had already picked up 400,000 cubic yards as of Tuesday night.

He said the city has 300 city and contractor trucks working now, and the goal is to increase the trucks to 500 and pick up the debris within three months and dispose of most of it before Thanksgiving.

Flood-damaged furniture sits in front of a home in the aftermath of Hurricane Harvey in Houston on Sept. 7, 2017.

Hurricane Harvey paralyzed the eight-county Houston region, which is larger than New Jersey, over four days in late August, dumping 51 inches of rain in some parts of the area and flooding more than 125,000 homes. Last week, Mayor Turner unveiled a proposal to increase property taxes by 8.9 percent for one year starting in January 2018 to raise $113 million.

Turner said the tax revenue was needed to pay for trash-removal contractors, replace 334 emergency vehicles that Harvey flooded, reimburse $20 million spent on Harvey relief that was taken from an emergency fund, and repair two sewage treatment plants and a water-purification plant.

But Turner said at Wednesday's City Council meeting that he will decrease the proposed tax hike because the Federal Emergency Management Agency has agreed to increase its reimbursement rate to 90 percent for many of the city's Harvey-caused expenses.

FEMA has already agreed to cover 90 percent of the city's debris-removal costs, which Turner estimates will be about $25.9 million.

"My request on a tax rate increase is pretty much cut almost in half. What we are seeking now is the $25 million match for debris removal and the restoration of the $20 million in the economic stabilization fund because there will be another storm or some emergency of some kind," Turner said, peering over the glasses on the bridge of his nose.

He said the City Council's vote on the tax increase is still set for Oct. 18.

Turner said that because Hurricane Irma tore up Florida days after Harvey dumped on Houston, many trash-disposal contractors have gone to Florida in search of better pay than the $11.69 per cubic yard of debris that Houston is offering.

FEMA initially agreed to reimburse Houston for its trash contractors at $7.69 per cubic yard, but it increased the rate to $11.69. Turner said he will stick with that rate to curtail the city's costs, but it will slow the process down.

"I talked to another large contractor yesterday, trying to bring them on board and they flew in. What they said to me is, 'Mayor, $11.69 isn't going to cut it, you have to be in the upper teens, in order to bring us or we're not going to do it,'" Turner said.

The City Council went into Wednesday's meeting with the expectation they would approve a $60 million payment to DRC Emergency Services for storm debris pickup. DRC was under contract to remove storm debris for the city before Harvey arrived.

But the proceedings became contentious when the issue came up for a vote.

Vice Mayor Pro-Tem Jerry Davis questioned how much of the $60 million DRC would pay its subcontractors, who are the ones running the garbage trucks and excavators filling them, and whether the city could hire subcontractors itself without going through DRC.

Turner clenched his jaw and his voice tightened as he responded to Davis.

"They [DRC] were not able to bring on subcontractors at all with $7.69, FEMA allowed us to increase the amount for our procurement contractors," Turner said.

"They then went from $7.69 to $11.69 and therefore they are now able to pay their subcontractors more than they were able to pay prior to FEMA giving us the green light," the mayor added. "The amount we are asking for today is $60 million to pay them and their subcontractors."

"For back work?" Davis asked.

"And for work that will take place. If you don't appropriate the $60 million then essentially you're slowing down the debris removal," Turner said.

City Council members say their constituents are bombarding them with emails and telephone calls asking when the debris will be removed from their streets, and the stress was palpable in one of them at Wednesday's meeting.

Houston City Councilman Larry Green

"Last week, mayor, you stated that district council members would know where the trucks are in our district. That hasn't happened," Councilman Larry Green said. "If we are going to move forward with this contract, I'd like to be able to tell my constituents how the city is communicating with council members about where these trucks are."

"Is that it for you, council member? Does that do it?" Turner asked Green.

"No, I asked a question," Green said.

"I heard you and I'll do my best to respond to you. Is there anything else?" Turner asked.

"All right, with that I will tag the item," Green said, referring to a procedural move that delays a vote on an agenda item for one week.

"If you tag it, if you tag it, council member, you're going to slow down the debris removal. So are you tagging it?" Turner said, setting Green off.

"I don't know where these trucks are going. If I don't know where the trucks are, how can I vote on something and how can I tell my constituents if this administration fails to tell me where these trucks are going? How am I supposed to know? So what am I voting on? I'm voting on $60 million that might not even come to my district?" Green said, his eyes flashing behind his round-framed glasses. "Tag."

One of the biggest items on the Council's Agenda this week was the increase of 60 million dollars in the amount the City agrees to pay DRC Emergency Services, one of the companies that perform clean-up operations with which it has a contract.

Garbage trucks operating in Houston after hurricane Harvey.

For Mayor Sylvester Turner, the increase is justified because of the overwhelming amount of debris that has to be removed.

However, during the debate, Council Member Larry Green—who represents neighborhoods in southwest Houston—complained the City is not telling him clearly where in his district they are cleaning up.

"If I don't know where the trucks are, how can I vote on something and how can I tell my constituents if this Administration fails to tell me where these trucks are going?" Green asked Mayor Turner.

Other Council Members like Jerry Davis and Mike Laster also expressed doubts about giving the green light to the 60 million dollars and ultimately the vote was postponed until next week. Turner wasn't pleased with that and commented: "Some are operating as if this is not an emergency."

Nonetheless, the Mayor noted he understands the concerns and added the City will try to give Council Members better information.

City Open For Business

As Houston starts taking steps on a long road to recovery in the wake of Hurricane and Tropical Storm Harvey, Mayor Sylvester Turner says the city is "open for business."

"Anyone who was planning on a conference or convention or a sporting event or a concert coming to this city, you can still come. We want you to still come," Turner told CBS News' Margaret Brennan on "Face the Nation" Sunday. Turner said the city's water system is safe and the electric grid "is pretty much sound."

"There are only about 12,000 people in the city of Houston without power," he said. "The airport system is up and running. The transit system is up and running. We've started picking up heavy debris."

"Let me be very, very clear: the City of Houston is open for business," he said.

Turner also said that all city employees are due back at work on Tuesday.

"On Tuesday we are getting back on our feet, and I'm expecting employees -- employers to open, employees to go to work," he said.

"Significantly less than 2,000" people remained at the George R. Brown Convention Center in Houston Sunday, after being forced out of their homes due to Harvey, according to Turner, who said that rapid repair housing is among the city's immediate needs.

"We need rapid repair housing. Because many, many people have elected to stay in their homes -- they are now dry. But they need to be repaired. In some cases, they may need to be rebuilt. And this is especially important for our seniors, low income communities, but really people all over the city," Turner said.

The mayor said that he asked President Trump, who met with storm victims Saturday, "to expand the rapid repair housing program for 15,000 up to 35,000."

Turner also said debris removal is immediately needed.

"Most of city is now dry, and people are already putting out their heavy debris," he said. "Now the City of Houston started on Thursday picking up this heavy debris, but we have to get it done like now. It can't be sitting around 30, 45, you know, two months from now." (Courtesy CBS Interactive)

FEMA wants to speed purchases of Houston homes hit by repeat floods

Coby Cochran, (L) and her daughters Elizabeth Thomas, 2, and Melanie Thomas, 7, receive a visit in their FEMA provided hotel room from family members in the aftermath of tropical storm Harvey in Houston, Texas, U.S. September 10, 2017. Picture taken September 10, 2017. "I'm a single mom and it's hard losing everything, but God is going to take care of us no matter what. Just live and love," said Cochran. "Momma I'm happy as long as we're together," said Melanie Thomas.

By David Hunn and Mihir Zaveri

The Federal Emergency Management Agency said it wants to accelerate buyouts of repeatedly flooded properties in Houston - swamped yet again, this time by Tropical Storm Harvey - and keep the federal government from paying to rebuild homes time and time again. It's not yet clear how many in Houston might be offered such buyouts. Roy Wright, the FEMA official who runs the National Flood Insurance Program, said in an interview on Thursday that he was working on a plan but declined to provide details.

Buyout programs are typically used by state and local governments to acquire properties in neighborhoods that are prone to flooding and other natural disasters as a way to provide relief to homeowners, who may not otherwise be able to sell, and the government, which pays the costs of responding to the disasters. Homeowners volunteer for the program, and the local governments apply to FEMA for funding. If granted, buyouts pay homeowners market value of their homes. After Hurricane Sandy in 2012, New York said it would spend $400 million in federal and state money on buyouts on the coasts of Long Island and Staten Island, according to research by the Pew Charitable Trusts. New Jersey aimed to spend $300 million and clear 1,300 homes from flood-prone river and coastal neighborhoods. Houston has participated in the program, too. The Harris County Flood Control District, for example, spent $11 million after the Tax Day Floods last year to buy out about 60 homes along Greens Bayou and other hard-hit areas. But it can take months or even years for local governments to apply for and get the FEMA grants, meaning that some homeowners might rebuild - usually with federal assistance - before taking the buyouts. Wright said he wants Houston homeowners to be able to consider buyouts instead of rebuilding. "On these multiple-loss properties, I'm working with my team and lawyers on ways I can move that to the front," he said. "The point is, I'm not going to pay someone redo their house, then re-buy it."

Wright said the effort to accelerate the buyouts was spurred, at least in part, by a Houston homeowner who called his office late one evening last week. The homeowner, whom he did not identify, had returned to her house after the Harvey flood and called to ask for the federal government to buy her property. Houston homeowners and advocates are hoping FEMA will roll out a program unlike any yet seen in the U.S., one that buys more houses, spends more money and does it faster.

拼了！卡梅隆找來前妻演《終結者6》 五六十歲的女人還能殺人，才是真的女權

據外媒消息，曾在詹姆斯·卡梅隆執導的《終結者》和《終結者：審判日》中出演人類反抗軍領袖之母莎拉·康納的老牌女星琳達·漢密爾頓，將回歸《終結者6》。而她的另壹個身份，是卡梅隆的前妻，二人共同育有壹女。

第壹部《終結者》誕生於1984年，成為壹代科幻經典。1991年的《終結者2：審判日》延續了這壹經典。然而早年卡梅隆壹時腦袋發熱把《終結者》系列的版權轉讓出去，也讓他失去了拍攝接下來幾部《終結者》電影的機會。

2003年、2009年和2015年《終結者3》《終結者2018》和《終結者：創世紀》相繼上映，不復當年的好評，卡梅隆本人也表示不滿意。2019年，《終結者》的版權重新回到卡梅隆手中，他打算拍攝新的《終結者》三部曲。之前阿諾·施瓦辛格已經確認回歸，現在女主角琳達·漢密爾頓也確認將回歸。看來卡梅隆是想讓《終結者6》跳過中間三部，與前兩部發生更緊密的聯繫。

最初，漢密爾頓飾演的莎拉·康納是壹個懵懂無知的服務員。在未來的公元2029年，經過核毀滅的地球已由電腦“天網”統治，人類幾乎被消滅殆盡。剩下的人類在領袖約翰·康納的領導下與天網英勇作戰，並扭轉了局面。“天網”為了改變這壹切，製造了時光逆轉裝置，派遣終結者人型機械人T-800（阿諾·施瓦辛格飾）回到1984年，去殺死約翰的母親莎拉·康納，以阻止約翰的出生。於是莎拉·康納在兩部電影中開始了頑強的戰鬥和逃亡之路。

莎拉·康納是影史上最著名的女戰士之壹，詹姆斯·卡梅隆也想通過漢密爾頓的回歸再次向世人展示她對女性和女權的解讀。在宣布漢密爾頓即將回歸的同時，他還表示：“五六十歲還在殺壞人的有好多，但其中還沒有壹位女性。”

前不久，卡梅隆剛剛批評《神奇女俠》是“女權主義的倒退”，並拿莎拉·康納舉例來說明什麼才是女權主義的進步：“莎拉·康納不是壹位完美的性感偶像——她很堅強，她有她的問題，她是壹個糟糕的母親，但她熬過來了，她的堅韌和勇氣贏得了觀眾的尊重。而對我來說，塑造這樣的角色很明顯會很有益處，不僅僅是因為至少壹半的觀眾是女性。”琳達·漢密爾頓的另壹個身份是卡梅隆的第四任妻子。在他與第三人妻子凱瑟琳·畢格羅離婚後，二人開始交往，並於1993年二月生下壹個女兒。1997年7月，經過漫長的愛情长跑，兩人終於結了婚，但這段婚姻僅僅維持了18個月，於1999年結束。

2010年她接受媒體採訪的時候會形容二人的婚姻“從各個方面來說都糟透了”，還說“離婚後就把卡梅隆送的鑽石婚戒給別人了”。

重啟的《終結者》電影當然不只有老演員。“我們也開始尋找18歲左右的女生來為這部電影擔當主角，”卡梅隆說，“這次依舊有時間穿越。我們將有來自未來的角色和現在的角色。大部分都將是新演員，但是施瓦辛格和琳達將回歸。”

新版《古墓麗影》首款中文預告片發布 坎妹演勞拉英姿颯爽 遺跡探秘機關重重

根據著名遊戲改編的電影《古墓麗影》今天發布首款中文正式預告片（臺灣版，譯名稍有不同），艾麗西亞·維坎德飾演的新版勞拉壹登場就驚艷感十足，性感與英氣並重，重新回歸大銀幕，勞拉仍舊魅力無窮。據悉，《古墓麗影》電影定檔2018年3月16日北美公映，中國內地有望引進。

安吉麗娜·朱莉主演《古墓麗影》之前上映過兩部，因為第二部票房不佳而夭折。但因為第壹部的巨大成功，安吉麗娜·朱莉還是憑借影片成為全球知名影星，現在他已經轉行做了導演。《古墓麗影》遊戲先後出過16個版本，至今仍然是暢銷的遊戲作品。

眾所周知，安吉麗娜·朱莉在2001年出演過電影《古墓麗影》，她是第壹任的銀幕勞拉形象。這壹版的形象是根本1990年代的遊戲版本改編。坎妹飾演的勞拉雖然是同壹個人物，但這壹版電影造型是基於遊戲《古墓麗影9》來打造的，更加與時俱進了。

重啟版《古墓麗影》的故事也從頭說起，勞拉的父親因為考古失蹤多年，勞拉在探尋古墓秘密的同時，也在尋找父親的蹤跡。預告片中還有華人男星吳彥祖登場，看起來戲份頗重。

但這是壹部以女性為主打的冒險動作電影，所以男性基本都是反派或者配角，希望吳彥祖在片中能有出彩的表現。

從動作場面設計來看，坎妹為了飾演勞拉也是下了壹番工夫的，健身和格鬥訓練自然必不可少，不少危險動作看得到出來是她自己完成的，她重新詮釋了冒險女英雄勞拉的形象，從造型到動作表現都十分貼近於遊戲《古墓麗影9》中的勞拉。

“雷神3”導演有望執導美版《阿基拉》 華納正與塔伊加維迪提洽 “釘子戶”項目終啟動

好萊塢改編日本動漫的著名“釘子戶”項目真人版《阿基拉》(Akira)終於有了消息。據外媒報道，華納正在與塔伊加·維迪提（《雷神3：諸神黃昏》）進行洽談，希望邀請他執導美版《阿基拉》。

1988年，大友克洋執導了根據漫畫改編的同名動畫電影《阿基拉》，故事圍繞男主角探尋軍方實驗秘密、挽救同伴展開

。而早在2002年，華納便買下了上世紀80年代大友克洋創作的系列漫畫《阿基拉》電影改編權。15年間，由於資金、劇本及主創多次更替，該片籌拍壹直處於停滯不前的狀態。

美版《阿基拉》的故事發生地將由日本轉至美國，“新東京”將轉而為“新曼哈頓”。華納則欲根據原作六部漫畫打造

兩部“阿基拉”系列電影，各涵蓋三部漫畫內容。“小李”萊昂納多·迪卡普里奧的制片公司Appian Way Productions將擔任美版《阿基拉》制作。

塔伊加·維迪提是好萊塢炙手可熱的導演之壹，除了即將於11月3日北美開畫的《雷神3：諸神黃昏》，他已確認執導福斯探照燈出品的壹部二戰題材劇情片。

傑拉德·巴特勒辭職主演 內地只比美國晚壹周開畫
吳彥祖科幻災難片《全球風暴》定檔10.27

由《獨立日》系列編劇迪安·德夫林執導，傑拉德·巴特勒、吉姆·斯特吉斯、吳彥祖共同出演的氣象災難片《全球風暴》今日宣布定檔：影片內地開畫時間為10月27日，晚北美壹周上映。

《全球風暴》由華納兄弟影片公司出品，講述的是發生在未來的驚天危機。為應對自然災害的威脅，世界各國的領導者通力合作，開發出可以操控天氣的氣象衛星網絡。但衛星網絡突然遭遇神秘變故，守護者瞬間變成毀滅者，對地球發起全方位攻擊。滅世浩劫席卷全球，人類存續危在旦夕。

《全球風暴》是今年內地引進的唯壹科幻災難片。影片壹幕幕後陣容強大，曾擔任《獨立日》、《哥斯拉》等大片制片人編劇的迪安·德夫林出任導演，來自《諸神之戰》的視覺特效指導傾力加盟。

男主角傑拉德·巴特勒是曾主演《斯巴達300勇士》、《倫敦陷落》的硬漢巨星，吉姆·斯特吉斯曾和安妮·海瑟薇主演經典愛情片《壹天》，儒雅氣質與巴特勒完美互補。尤其令華人觀眾關注的是偶像男星吳彥祖也將出演重要角色。

1. 直接殺傷腫瘤細胞。綠蜂膠通過超級抗原介導型細胞毒性作用殺傷人體內的腫瘤細胞。
2. 啟動大量T細胞。野花牌綠蜂膠啟動T細胞的能力是普通抗原的2000倍，可使體內T細胞啟動，特別是啟動輔助型T細胞，可以有效解除體內腫瘤細胞的免疫逃逸狀態，強化機體的特別性抗腫瘤免疫力。
3. 刺激產生大量免疫細胞因子。野花牌綠蜂膠可以通過啟動體內T細胞和巨噬細胞，放大并強化人體內的抗腫瘤特異性免疫，從而加強機體清除腫瘤細胞的作用。
4. 誘導腫瘤細胞凋亡。野花牌綠蜂膠能全面接觸腫瘤細胞的耐藥性與抗凋亡作用，強化腫瘤細胞凋亡，增強腫瘤細胞對化療藥物與放療的敏感性，加速腫瘤細胞的抑殺進程。
5. 蜂膠免疫增強作用與其對T細胞的調節作用存在緊密聯繫。對T淋巴細胞的分化及其淋巴因子的產生具有調節作用，可增強機體的抗寄生蟲、抗病毒能力，有效阻止腫瘤細胞突變，激活人體T細胞免疫調節能力，加強抵抗力。
6. 蜂膠抑制腫瘤轉移機制與其對T細胞的活化作用相關。是一種特殊的純天然抗原物質，具有強大的啟動T細胞的能力，具有強化腫瘤細胞凋亡的作用，同時能通過分泌細胞毒素地黃毒或誘導靶細胞的凋亡而清除贅生細胞。
